What is Plant Health Care ?

PHC is a service related to the care of all plants. PHC for trees involves improved tree health care methods recognizing the effects it may have on the environment.

PHC for trees should begin at planting, but established trees will benefit by allowing optimal growing conditions.

Inadequate care may result in unhealthy trees that can lead to decay, death and removal.

Stressors

If the primary cause of the stress is unknown, recommendations will include practices aimed at keeping the tree's vigor as high as possible.

If your tree is declining, prompt assessment, diagnosis and treatment are important.

Well established and mature trees are not easily replaced.

Service call rates apply to PHC services.

Do You Know?

"TOPPING" a tree is a temporary & ineffective solution that makes a tree MORE hazardous.

There are several pruning techniques. Pruning will effect the appearance and overall health of the tree.

The wrong technique can cause significant damage and higher maintenance.
